

1. Transformation lives through Education:

One hand, being born in a poor family is a sin in our society and the other hand, if the family earners are addicted to alcohol. In this situation, one has to suffer the most are the children those families. The dream of study, dream of play, dream to move forward, dream to do something gradually becomes edge of end for all those children. There are millions of children all over the country, whose life ends with this waste bin.

Here one such story is of Ruma Lohar, lives in Babur para, Bishnupur of Bankura District. She has three siblings. The situation was such that, they would spent their life to see how they would leave today, what to eat tomorrow His father was a daily wage labour and used to drink, and suddenly one day he left everyone along with Ruma's mummy from the house, in that time Ruma was only 15 years old.

Despite of this critical situation, Rina Devi's (Ruma's mother) focus was to bring improvement in their children's education standard to prove wrong the existing believe that, 'the son of a Journalist becomes a Journalist and the son of a laborer becomes laborer'. After left home, she shifted at Gutban which is her father's house and worked as daily wage labour to continue the schooling of her children.

Meanwhile, Ruma passed the class nine, and promoted to class ten. Although Ruma was an average student, but she ahs very keen to higher study. Life was going well, but suddenly crisis of money emerged with in family. On the other hand, Ruma have the board exam in this year, therefore needed to be good preparation. In this situation, Ruma gets a question mark regarding his studies, weather she can continued or not??

In the meantime, Mallabhum Prayas received a call from her mother for support to Ruma. Rina Devi explained her families' situation and sought our support. With the vision of Help to Needy People, we move forward to support Ruma to continued her study. We had brought all the required books and other accessories and provide him.
